Greg –

First, I want to apologize for this email response being so tardy. I submitted your questions to the Board and after reviewing the information, the Board is recommending that you submit an application for SIT registration. That will allow you to begin working immediately while waiting to take and pass the NEHA examination. Once you pass the NEHA examination, it is up to you to decide when you want to apply for advancement. The Board is not able to make a determination on your previous work experience without having an application on file.

I hope this answers your questions. Should you have any additional questions or need additional assistance, please feel free to contact me. Have a nice weekend!

Subject: RE: Sanitarian In Training Requirements

Hello Stephanie,

So if I read this correctly below....my experiences would be acceptable in my current position since it is a combination of community educator/administrative/bioterrorism coordinator? So I would not need a monthly evaluation?

In order to engage in the practice of environmental health as an SIT, the SIT must be supervised by a registered sanitarian. An SIT gaining experience, but not practicing, does not need to be supervised by a registered sanitarian. Further, an SIT gaining experience, but not practicing, does not need to satisfy the requirements set forth in Section 4736-15-02 of the Administrative Code regarding submission of monthly evaluation forms.

Thanks again!

Greg -

I have attached 3 policies that I believe will answer your question. You are eligible to advance from SIT to RS with one year full time work experience and passage of the NEHA examination because you hold an MBA.

Please feel free to contact me if you have any questions. Have a nice day!

Subject: Sanitarian In Training Requirements

Hello Stephanie,

I was looking in to getting my Sanitarian In Training registration but had a couple questions that I could not find on the website.

I currently have a Bachelor of Science and my MBA. I have been working at the Toledo-Lucas County Health Department for 6+ years in the Community Services & Environmental Health Division. I mainly do disaster preparedness which includes Environmental Health and working with our Epidemiologists. I also worked as an Epidemiologist for 1.5 years prior. Would this work experience in our division qualify me to transition from an SIT to an RS in 1 year? I would also have the ability to train and go out in the different areas of Environmental Health (food inspections, septic and well, plan review, rodent control) under the supervision of Jerry Bingham or Eric Zgodzinski.

Please let me know if having my main job responsibilities in disaster preparedness/epidemiology in Environmental Health with access to train in other areas of Environmental Health would qualify me to move from an SIT to RS with successful completion of the exam within 1 year due to having my Masters degree.

I appreciate your time in this matter.

Policy 4736-29: Sanitarian in Training Experience/Practice Timeline

Section 4736.15 of the Revised Code provides that a sanitarian-in-training may engage in the practice of environmental health for a period not to exceed five years, provided he/she is supervised by a registered sanitarian.

While employed as an SIT engaging in the practice of environmental health, all time will be counted as practice toward the five-year maximum of practice. The Board may, for due cause and upon receipt of appropriate documentation, take into consideration part-time practice in determining practice toward the five-year maximum.

Section 4736.10 of the Revised Code requires sanitarians in training who do not apply for advancement within three years of registration as an SIT to apply to the Board for an extension within that three-year period. Section 4736.10 also requires an SIT seeking an extension to furnish in writing, sufficient cause for not applying for registration as a sanitarian. It is within the purview of the Board to determine if sufficient cause exists. Examples of sufficient cause may be inability to secure two years of experience, or inability to pass the examination after repeated attempts. The Board may allow an SIT to hold SIT status indefinitely as long as the SIT does not engage in the practice of environmental health for more than five years and is approved for an extension(s) by the Board.

The Ohio Revised Code authorizes the Board to grant SIT status, establish renewals, and renewal criteria. Section 4736.15 limits the length of time an SIT may practice, but does not limit the length of time a person may be registered as an SIT if he/she is not engaging in the practice of environmental health. Therefore, it is feasible for an SIT to be gaining experience in the field of environmental health, but not practicing environmental health.

In order to engage in the practice of environmental health as an SIT, the SIT must be supervised by a registered sanitarian. An SIT gaining experience, but not practicing, does not need to be supervised by a registered sanitarian. Further, an SIT gaining experience, but not practicing, does not need to satisfy the requirements set forth in Section 4736-15-02 of the Administrative Code regarding submission of monthly evaluation forms.

The Board is without authority to renew, extend, or approve an application or reapplication for an SIT who has engaged in the practice of environmental health for five years.

Policy 4736-30: Environmental Health Experience

The following interpretation is provided as a guideline. Section 4736.01(B) provides that a sanitarian is a person who performs for compensation educational, investigational, technical, or administrative duties requiring specialized knowledge and skills in the field of environmental health science.

(A) Timing of Experience

Only experience earned after the attainment of the college degree is permitted.

If an applicant for advancement to registered sanitarian claims duties that are defined in the practice of environmental health (reference Section 4736.01 of the Ohio Revised Code), and he/she was not registered as a sanitarian-in-training while performing these duties, this experience will not be awarded, because engaging in the practice of environmental health without the proper registration is a violation of Section 4736.15 of the Ohio Revised Code.

(B) Types of Experience

- |  |   |
|--|---|
| 1. Laboratory  | Collection of samples and/or laboratory analysis of samples is not acceptable as experience unless the following are also included in the duties: Judgment is utilized how and when; interpretation formed of field condition; individual has authority to address the media. |

| 6. High School Science Teacher                       | Unacceptable experience.  |

11. Preparation of Surveys Unacceptable if individual gathers facts (makes observations.) Acceptable if surveyor performs analysis of data and can cause corrective action.
12. Pest Control Sales and application of pesticides is unacceptable. Acceptable if individual conducts analysis or evaluation of data and designs a control measure and/or plan for corrective action.
13. Monitoring Equipment Operators Acceptable if as part of an environmental health program and the individual makes an analysis, and can cause corrective action.
14. Administrative Acceptable if applicant demonstrates that more than 50% of duties include supervision direction, enforcement, planning, monitoring or evaluation in a program(s) defined under environmental health science.
15. Consultant Acceptable if individual conducts analysis or evaluation of data and designs a control measure and/or plan for corrective action.
16. Bioterrorism Coordinator Acceptable if the application of specialized knowledge and skills in the field of environmental health is utilized.

Policy 4736-31: Environmental Interns/Aides/Technicians

Environmental health interns are students enrolled in an environmental health curriculum. The internship is typically a credit course taken by the student to fulfill, in most cases, degree requirements at a college or university. Internships are training/educational experiences designed to familiarize students with selected aspects of environmental health science. Since the student has not fulfilled the requirements of Section 4736.08 of the Ohio Revised Code, the individual may not engage in the practice of environmental health as specified by division (E) of section 4736.01 of the Revised Code.

Environmental Health Aide/Technician - Health departments may utilize sanitarian aides and technicians to perform vector control and other duties that do not require specialized knowledge and skills in the field of environmental health.

Section 4736.01(E) does provide some exclusions from the practice of environmental health including sampling, testing, controlling vectors, reporting of observations, or other duties that do not require the application of specialized knowledge and skills in environmental health science under the supervision of a registered sanitarian.

Interns/aides/technicians duties may include, but are not limited to the following. The Board recommends that the duties be performed under the supervision of a registered sanitarian:

1. Collect/deliver samples for which specialized knowledge and skills in the field of environmental health science are not required.
2. Perform environmental tests such as chlorine residual, ph, temperature, linear and volumetric measurements.
3. Report what was seen and what was written in a particular situation e.g., presence/absence of solid wastes, animal feces, etc.
4. Conduct field surveys and personal interviews with home owners, e.g., sewage surveys designed only for the collection of information, where individual orders will not be issued.
5. Assist in the completion of inspection and investigation reports done by registered sanitarians, e.g., measuring between manufactured homes, lifting of dry well lids, cistern lids, septic tank lids, using a punch bar, etc.
6. Place dye in septic water fixtures. Can look for and report the presence/absence of dye at a specific location(s).
7. Interview and collect information from animal owners/bite victims regarding circumstances/facts of a biting incident. Can contact animal owners to inform them of applicable rules and to determine health/vaccination status of a biting animal.
8. Decapitation of animal heads, if rabies vaccinated.
9. Any vector control work as permitted by Ohio Department of Agriculture (ODA) rules.

Interns/aides/technicians shall not, for purposes specified in 4736.01(E),:

1. Collect samples for which specialized knowledge and skills in the field of environmental health science are required.
2. Interpret or analyze the results of samples or tests performed.
3. Develop conclusions or recommendations based on observations and sampling results.
4. Complete and sign an official agency inspection report of violations of Ohio Revised Code or Ohio Administrative Code chapters specified in 4736.01(E).
5. Conduct investigations or inspections of the adequacy of compliance.
6. Evaluate equipment, policies, procedures, methods, or techniques that have the primary purpose of improving a facility's compliance with the provisions specified in Section 4736.01(E) of the Ohio Revised Code.
7. Conduct education programs or instruct operators of facilities regulated by ORC and OAC section specified in 4736.01.
8. Initiate action or act as an expert witness in an enforcement action emanating from activities specified in section 4736.01(E).
